

NOTICE FOR CANADIAN CLIENTS

Reliance on International Adviser Exemption (the «Exemption») contained in section 8.26 of National Instrument 31-103 Registration Requirements, Exemptions and Ongoing Registrant Obligations (“NI 31-103”) and Notification to Permitted Clients of the prescribed information under subsection 8.26(4)(e) of NI 31-103

Please note that Vontobel Swiss Wealth Advisors AG (“VSWA”) provides advice in reliance upon the Exemption from the Canadian adviser registration requirement under NI 31-103. Pursuant to the Exemption, VSWA is subject to certain restrictions, which means, among other things, that VSWA is only permitted to provide advice on “foreign securities” to “permitted clients” resident in certain provinces of Canada, currently Alberta, British Columbia, Nova Scotia, Ontario and Québec. A foreign security is a security issued by an issuer incorporated, formed or created under the laws of a foreign (i.e., non-Canadian) jurisdiction or a security issued by a government of a foreign jurisdiction. This serves to put you on notice that, in compliance with the Exemption, we will advise you on (and route trades on your behalf) only with respect to foreign securities and may ask for confirmations from you to confirm your status as a permitted client.

Kindly also note that:

1. VSWA is not registered in Canada and is advising you, its client, in reliance upon an exemption from the adviser registration requirement under section 8.26 of NI 31-103.
2. The jurisdiction of VSWA’s head office and principal place of business is Switzerland.
3. All or substantially all of VSWA’s assets may be situated outside of Canada.
4. There may be difficulty enforcing legal rights against VSWA because it is not registered in Canada, its head office is located outside of Canada and all or substantially all of its assets may be situated outside of Canada.
